GC pure air bonds

Issuance of $30 million in industrial revenue bonds to aid the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp. in installation of air pollution control facilities is planned by Granite City, it was learned by the Press-Record Friday.

The bonds, like those authorized in previous issues to help finance construction or improvements of industrial firms, would be retired by the steel company and would not constitute a debt against the city's assets or taxable income.

Mayor Paul Schuler said that City Attorney Lance Callis is checking into the legal aspects of the bond issue and that a resolution authorizing the bonds probably will be ready by City Council action in its Aug. 21 session.

"We are particularly looking into the extent of our authority to issue bonds in the amount of $30 million," Mayor Schuler said, noting that industrial improvement bonds are limited in most instances to $10 million.

"However, we are pretty certain that the legislation permitting such bond issues extends the amount of bonds that can be authorized for air pollution control projects, the mayor added.

The city has issued industrial revenue bonds under its home rule authority to aid a number of industries to expand their present facilities, or to construct new facilities for operations here.

The most recent such issues were authorized by resolutions passed by the council July 17 in behalf of Nestle, Inc., to build a $2 million addition to its plant, and for Chromalloy American Corp. to build a new $10 million coil coating plant here.

The city also issued revenue bonds to assist St. Elizabeth Medical Center in its $18 million expansion project, to Michigan Metals Corp. to install facilities here and to Feralloy Corp. also to initiate operations in Granite City.

Management program is succeeding

The popular Construction Management Technology (CMT) program, started by the Southern Illinois Builders Association (SIBA) in 1973, has announced that the fall 1979 program will be offered at seven community colleges in Southern Illinois.

Four additional colleges offer a cooperative study program for residents of their areas who wish to attend the CMT program without paying out-of-district fees.

The two-year program focuses on technical specializations needed to begin a career in construction at the mid-management level.

The success of the CMT program has grown in the past few years and a variety of students is now taking advantage of the special instruction being offered.

Milton chosen for recreation position

Walter C. Milton has been appointed to the 21-member Illinois Recreation Council, it was announced by the office of Governor James Thompson.

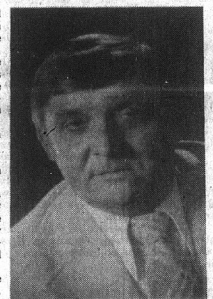

The council advises the governor, the director of the Department of Business and Economic Development, the director of the Department of Conservation and the General Assembly on recreational development in the state. Its jurisdiction also includes tourism and state parks.

Milton is vice president-marketing, southern division of Pepsi-Cola Alton Bottling, Inc.

Active in civic affairs, Milton is a past president of the Granite City Rotary Club and a past director of the Granite City Jaycees. He served four years on the Citizens' Advisory Committee for the Granite City school system.

In 1969, he was the recipient of the Granite City Park District silver cup, the district's highest award for outstanding achievement.

Replacement tax outlook still unsure

Governor James R. Thompson applied an amendatory veto Thursday to lower the rate of the General Assembly's corporate personal property tax replacement bill, and summoned the lawmakers into special session today to review the action.

A lively debate is assured, House Speaker William Redmond vowed Saturday to seek to override the veto. The governor said the special session is necessary to give prompt attention to his amendatory veto so that there will be no delay in an anticipated court test of the new law. A delay would cause confusion for local governments in estimating their revenues as a result of the shift to a new taxing source, he noted.

Acting on House Bill 2569, which raises from 4 percent to 6.85 percent the income tax on corporations to replace local revenues lost by the abolition of the corporate personal property tax, Thompson:

A. approved the 2.85 percent increase until Jan. 1, 1981, when, under his amendatory veto, it would drop to 2.5 percent.

B. Left the 1.5 percent increase in the income tax on partnerships and the .3 percent increase on invested stock of utilities intact as passed by the General Assembly.

C. Issued a special session call for noon today, restricted to consideration of the governor's actions on HB 2569. Transportation revenue issues are to be considered in early September by the legislators.

The governor said he is convinced by recent arguments and editorial commentary in Illinois newspapers that he should change his previous plan to cut the increased rate to 2.5 percent immediately.

State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin on Friday urged the legislature to take "quick, decisive action" today to resolve the lingering corporate tax replacement issue, "so the flow of dollars to schools can be assured."

September overpass bid call

By HARRY BARNES
of the Press-Record

Granite City Council members will initiate this week a series of legal steps to accept an offer by the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp. to underwrite a bond issue that will complete the financing for construction of the $5.2 million downtown overpass.

Mayor Paul Schuler told the Press-Record that an early clearance of legal procedure will permit a call for construction bids for the overpass project by late this month or early in September.

Mayor Schuler said the first action toward acceptance of the Granite City Steel proposal to underwrite a bond issue ranging from $1.3 to $1.7 million is scheduled in the regular City Council

Schools open soon

By KATHY SMALL
of the Press-Record

Summer vacations for Quad-City public and parochial students are about to end.

Opening dates for area schools have been set and preparations for reopening are nearing completion.

Madison public schools will open on Tuesday, Aug. 28, with a half-day session scheduled. Full-day classes will begin Aug. 29. A teachers institute will be held Aug. 27.

Public schools in Venice also will open Aug. 28 with a half-day orientation session tentatively planned Aug. 29 will mark the start of full-day classes. Faculty members will participate in a teacher workshop to be held Aug. 27 at Venice High School.

All schools in the Granite City School District are tentatively scheduled to open Aug. 29 for a half day of classes, with the first full schedule the following day, Aug. 30.

A secretaries' workshop, with a representative from each school in the Granite City district attending, will be held Aug. 22 at 1 p.m. at the Board of Education office, 20th and Adams streets.

Administrators of the Granite City School District will meet Aug. 23 at the Board office. A fall workshop for all faculty members will be held Aug. 28 at Granite City High School North from 9 a.m. to 3:25 p.m.

Most Quad-City parochial schools will open Aug. 29 with half or partial day class sessions. The exceptions are St. Mary's in Madison and St. Mark's in Venice, which will open for a half-day Aug. 28. The first full-day session will be held Aug. 29. A teacher's meeting is scheduled for Aug. 23.

Sacred Heart and St. Joseph schools will start full-day class schedules Sept. 4. An in-service day for teachers will be

Reject bid

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

The Madison Board of Education rejected a $25,000 bid for the junior high school property and tabled action on a $5,000 bid for the Dunbar school property at a board meeting Thursday night.

The two properties were put up for public auction Friday, July 27, by the Regional Board of School Trustees of Madison County, after being declared surplus.

When the new Madison middle school, currently under construction and expected to be in use by September, is placed in use, the two buildings will be vacated by the school district.

Alexander Tarpoff, 1609 Clark Ave., was high bidder for the junior high property with a $25,000 bid and Henry Fletcher, 220 Weaver St., Venice, was high bidder at $5,000 for Dunbar school. The Madison board has until Aug. 15 to make a decision on what it wants to do about both buildings.

The vote to reject the junior high building bid was unanimous by the four board members in attendance, Paul Bargiel, Sam Dymas, Don Garrett and Elvers Johnson.

The vote to delay a decision on the Dunbar bid was three in favor, with Garrett casting a no vote.

Board members not present at the Thursday meeting were Mrs. Billie Bosworth, Frank Eaves and Richard Zeislet.

A discussion was held prior to the vote and President Dymas asked if anyone visiting had any comments.

Fletcher said, "My proposal is similar to the one by the Community Action Agency (CAA). I think we need the Dunbar building used in the community and it should stay there if at all possible."

Willie Walker, director of the Madison County Urban League, expressed his agency's desire to work with any group that would put the building to use serving the communities

Madison prepares to use new school

Tentative plans call for two special Madison School board meetings next week. One meeting will be to discuss the disposition of the junior high school and the Dunbar school and the second meeting will concern the beginning of school in relation primarily to use of the new middle school. The Madison board at its meeting Thursday evening received copies of a progress report on the new middle school.

According to the report, by Henry R. Gabriel, architect, unit "A," the academic section and unit "B," the cafeteria, can be completed by Sept. 1. Section "C," the gym and vocational section, is not expected to be finished until Nov. 1. The gym floor, after it is moved, must season for a full month. In addition to the decision on when to move into the new school, the board will review bus routes, time schedules and other related matters regarding the opening of school. A teachers meeting is scheduled for Monday, Aug. 27, and a half day of school for students on Tuesday, Aug. 28.

U.S. Civil Defense Council conference

The City of New York Office of Civil Preparedness will host the 28th annual conference of the United States Civil Defense Council from Sept. 30 to Oct. 4.

Headquarters for the conference will be the New York Sheraton Hotel at 7th Avenue and 56th Street.

Principal speaker will be John W. Macy Jr., director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

Macy addressed the National Governors Association July 9, calling for the establishment of a state and federal government partnership for emergency management.

The USCSA conference will open with welcoming remarks by Mayor Edward I. Koch of New York City and Robert J. McGuire, New York City police commissioner.

Among the distinguished speakers scheduled to address the conference and their topics are:

Dr. Leonard Star, director of Kennedy International Airport Medical Office—Managing Airport Disasters: The Mobile Hospital, A Design to Increase Survivability.
Dr. Leonard Solon, director, Bureau of Radiation Control, New York City Health Department—

Transportation of Radioactive Materials Through Urban Areas—Restricting Campaign.

L. I. Turner, Department of Energy, Savannah River Operation—Storage and Transportation of Radioactive Spent Fuel.

Captain Frank Bolz, commanding officer, Hostage Negotiating Team, New York City Police Department—Philosophy and Strategies of the New York City Police Department.

Tom Blausier, civil defense director, Cumberland County, Pa.—Evacuation: Is It Possible During an Industrial Nuclear Crisis?

(Slide Presentation of Three Mile Island Incident).
Robert Shea, director, New York Chapter, American Red Cross—The Role of the Red Cross and Emergency Preparedness Agencies: Partners Not Competitors.

Also William Leask, deputy director of operations, New York City Emergency Medical Service; and Dr. John Marr, New York City Health Department, among others.

Some area civil defense officers and council members are expected to attend the 28th annual USCSA conference.
Hotel reservations are required by Sept. 9.

Need for transit subsidy

A mass transit crisis is on the horizon for the Illinois portion of the bi-state area unless steps are taken by Illinois leaders to come up with $1 million in local matching funds by next July, according to James S. Nations.

Vice chairman of the Bi-State Development Agency board, Nations has issued a warning to the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors. He is urging immediate action in finding a source of such funding.

Bi-State provided bus service to nine million Illinois riders last year in Madison, Monroe and St. Clair counties at a deficit of about $1.2 million.

Through the Downstate Public Transportation Act of 1975, the agency received an amount equal to 2-32nds of the state sales tax collected in those three counties to pay Illinois' share of the transit operating budget.

Constantly rising costs have made the 3-32nd figure inadequate, causing the deficit last year and in the two previous years, he said.

Officer Asperger earns top academic honors

Madison Police Officer Richard A. Asperger, 22, completed the six-weeks basic police training course at the Belleville Area College Police Academy with the highest academic score in his class of 25 new police officers.

His total point score was 584 out of a possible 600, which gave him a 97.6 grade point average.

Asperger has wanted to be a police officer since high school due to the influence of "Uncle Emil" he said. He is the nephew of Madison County Sheriff Emil Toftant. Asperger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Asperger, 1608 Kennedy Ave., Madison.

He went to St. Mary-St. Mark elementary school and graduated in 1975 from Assumption High School.

Cyclists accosts woman

A 24-year-old Granite City woman was accosted by a man who grabbed her as she was walking toward her apartment in the 2500 block of Parkside Drive shortly after midnight Thursday.

The woman told police the man released her as she began screaming and fled on foot. The man had followed her home on a motorcycle, the woman said.

She told officers she picked up her car at a Granite City lounge about 12:30 a.m. Friday. While driving home at St. Clair and Myrtle avenues, a man on a motorcycle pulled alongside her car and said, "Hi there."

Data retrieval system to be demonstrated

Area scholars and researchers are being invited to see a demonstration of the most advanced information retrieval system yet developed. The system, demonstrated by Lockheed Corp., will be set up in the Belleville Area College auditorium Aug. 15.

The public may view the demonstration at 1 p.m. The Dialog online information system has the capacity to retrieve information on the basis of newly-coined terms, obscure terms, lengthy or multiple terms, slang terms, personal names, and journal titles — items not usually listed in a print index.

The system has one hundred databases, including ERIC, Social Science Abstracts, NCI, and other well-known information indexes tied into it.

According to BAC's director of learning resources, Lloyd Gentry (235-2700, Ext. 341), if the system were installed at the college, researchers from throughout the area would be permitted to use it for the cost of the computer time alone — with the average search costing about $15.

"Located as we are, central to SIU in Carbondale and Edwardsville and to the universities in St. Louis, such an information retrieval system should be of tremendous use," Gentry said.

Madison department since June 1979. He is a member of the Croatian Fraternal Union 222 and a committee member of Explorer Post 10-4, sponsored by Madison Police Unit 110.

His hobby is music. Officer Asperger plays the bass guitar for the "Mike Dillon Review," a disco band.

She said the cyclist stayed to the rear of her car as she pulled away from the intersection and that a little later she did not see him. She said she parked her car in the 2500 block of Parkside Drive and was walking toward her apartment when someone came up behind her and said, "You sure have a nice car."

The woman turned and started walking back to her car, but was grabbed by the man who began wrestling with her, she told officers. She said she began screaming loudly and the man released her and ran. She identified him as the man who had been on the motorcycle.

Police said they are seeking a man described as 20 to 23 years old, about five feet, seven inches tall with short, straight brown hair, a brown mustache and wearing blue jeans and a blue windbreaker.

Auditions for chorus

Auditions for membership in the Belleville Area College Community Chorus will begin Aug. 13.

The chorus, directed by A. Dennis Sparger, is comprised of about 60 select adult and college singers from the Madison-St. Clair counties area.

During the past four years, the group has performed such masterworks as Handel's "Messiah," Mendelssohn's "Elijah," Haydn's "Creation," and Bach's "B minor Mass," as well as contemporary masterpieces.

Anyone who has had previous school or church experience and can read music is eligible to audition.

To make an appointment or for further information, Quad-City singers may contact Christy Budt (397-9254) after Aug. 7.

The chorus rehearses each Tuesday evening from September through May at Belleville Area College.

Management

CMT was "extremely helpful in securing my job and giving me a better understanding of it."

He also gives credit to the instructors. "When you have construction professionals teaching the appropriate courses, it lends credibility to the program. It helps the student gain insights into the industry that he probably wouldn't receive from regular classroom instructors."

"Personnel management, labor relations, and even rhetoric skills are sharpened with CMT," says George Wolfe of M. H. Wolfe & Co. of Granite City. He attributes his enhanced skills in writing and public speaking to CMT as well as knowledge gained in construction-oriented areas.

Glenn Wolfe, president of the Granite City-based construction firm, says his company has earned more in CMT than he could have with 10 years of on-the-job experience.

Larry Reynolds is currently the president of Carpenters Local 285 in Collinsville and also a superintendent with the Wolfe construction firm. He found the CMT program to be invaluable.

"A superintendent needs a strong, fundamental knowledge of the entire construction process. I'm confident, as a superintendent, that my decisions are made through my knowledge of a problem rather than just a wild guess. Really," he added, "I find a practical use every single day for the things I learned at CMT."

One of the persons instrumental in the groundwork of the CMT program in 1973 is Ralph Korte, president of his own construction firm in Highland. "It's one of the best things the SIBA Education Committee has done," says Korte. "The CMT student has more enthusiasm for the industry because he or she knows and understands the industry better. Therefore, each becomes even more valuable as an employee."

Richard Meile, secretary-treasurer of the Tri-Counties Carpenter's District Council, is pleased to see so many union craftsmen involved in the program. "Construction is getting sophisticated," he states. "You have to keep in touch, and this program affords an opportunity for education of craftsmen. I would recommend this to all construction workers," Meile continues, "regardless of trade."

The community colleges offering the CMT program this fall include Belleville Area College, Lincoln Trail College in Robinson, John A. Logan College in Carterville, Lewis & Clark Community College in Godfrey, Rend Lake College in Ina, Southeastern Illinois College in Harrisburg and State Community College in East St. Louis.

In addition, several colleges have cooperating programs in conjunction with the CMT curriculum. Residents of the areas in the cooperating college districts may attend one of the above colleges for the CMT program without paying out-of-district fees.

These cooperating colleges are Olney Central College, Wabash Valley College in Mt. Carmel, Kaskaskia College in Centralia and Shawnee College in Ullin.

The benefits of the CMT program to the construction industry and its people are called enormous.

Gary Dorley of Smiley Homes, Inc. of O'Fallon sums it up when he says, "CMT is professionalizing the industry. Technology is bypassing us, and good management is more essential today than ever before. CMT is worth every bit of time and energy one puts into it. To obtain more information on the Construction Management Technology Program and the 1979 fall schedule, Quad-Cityans may contact BAC or the Southern Illinois Builders Association, 1403 West Main, Belleville 62223 (397-7400) or the branch office of SIBA, P.O. Box 209, Lincoln Square Shopping Center, Marion 62559 (397-5400).

World impact, regional progress fostered by SIU

Acceptance remarks by President Kenneth A. Shaw of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville when he was named chancellor of the SIU System by the SIU Board of Trustees in Carbondale July 3.

Let me express my gratitude to the Board of Trustees for vesting such confidence in me.

Further, it is more than appropriate for me to express appreciation to the Search Assistance Council for the diligent, thorough and responsible manner in which a challenging charge was pursued.

For the courtesies extended to me, and to my wife, Mary Ann by the board, the council, and the faculty, students and staff at both universities during the arduous process of reaching this decision, we are more grateful than words can say.

Given the high quality of the candidates, especially the finalists, I know that this was a hard call for the board.

It would be less than honest for me to say that the decision to accept this challenge was easy for me. It wasn't.

I am leaving a position that has been both exciting and gratifying. I have never enjoyed a job so much.

During my tenure as president of SIUE, I have learned a great deal, but more important, I have developed and confirmed some friendships and associations that I value highly.

I will miss the direct, day-to-day contact with my colleagues at SIUE, but I take consolation in that they will continue to play a significant role in my future professional life.

The creation of the position of chancellor and the assignment of the overall structure of governance in the SIU system has been the subject of vigorous deliberation and discussion. Now, it is an accomplished fact. It is essential that we move forward with the pressing business at hand.

We cannot permit ourselves the luxury of letting peripheral distractions keep us from maintaining the momentum that is present at both universities in the system.

At both SIUC and SIUE, there exists a strong pride in past institutional accomplishments, along with an even stronger desire to build this momentum toward greater accomplishments in the future.

There is every reason for the two universities to be proud. At Carbondale, the recent North Central Accreditation Association study highlights the splendid reputation of an internationally known institution.

It points to a prominent and dedicated faculty and staff, and to the high caliber of both academic and service programs. It concludes that SIUC is substantially accomplishing its purposes.

In a dramatically brief period, Carbondale's Schools of Law and Medicine have achieved reputations of high quality. They have contributed substantially to improving the quality of life in Southern Illinois and the state as a whole.

SIUC's stature has also been acknowledged by various federal agencies and private foundations which have contributed over $4 million annually for research grants and contracts.

In short, everyone at Carbondale—faculty, students, and staff—has solid reason to take pride in SIUC's high standing.

At Edwardsville, for a quarter of a century the university has been actively present in the metropolitan region.

This is a relatively brief time in the history of an institution of higher learning. However, it has produced approximately 30,000 graduates during this short period, many of whom have risen to significant leadership positions.

The development of its professional schools in dental medicine and nursing has had as profound an effect on the surrounding area as their counterparts in law and medicine from Carbondale.

The involvement of the university in East St. Louis represents a social commitment of the first importance. SIUE has been a vital force for good already, and serves as the brightest beacon of hope for the region's future.

The momentum I have spoken of can continue because the two universities are equipped to meet the challenges of the '80s—and beyond.

It will continue, and I will be a positive force in seeing that it does. The decade to come is crucial, if only because of the overwhelming demand that we use every dollar to the highest degree of efficiency.

Further, we are going to have to make the best case possible both to the legislature in Springfield and to all the taxpaying citizens of the state.

Overall, our case is an excellent one. This is, I think, an appropriate moment for us to count the blessings that the Southern Illinois University system offers the state. They can be enumerated in terms of people, places and programs.

First of all, we help to enrich and mature people. SIUE has approximately 34,000 students attending classes at our widespread locations throughout the state, the nation and, indeed, the world.

Providing or supporting this enlightenment are 5,300 members of our faculties and staffs, who are loyal to their labors and involved in the region where they reside.

While our fundamental focus may be downstate, it's worth noting that students in the neighborhood of 6,000 come from greater Chicago.

The broad scope of places in which the system operates also supports this concept. The system is not limited to the two major campuses at Edwardsville and Carbondale, which are its customary points of reference.

To use an analogy from the life sciences, that of the ecological interdependence of all the elements within a defined environment, we can say that the SIU system has numerous parts which function for the greater good while growing in terms of their own identities and purposes.

This vibrant educational ecosystem touches many lives individually, socially, economically and culturally.

"Dynamic presence" is the best way I know to describe the richness and greatness of this system—"dynamic" being understood as ever changing, but also as energetic, vigorous and forceful; and "presence" implying a neighborly proximity yet commanding the respectful attention of the millions it touches.

Considered in toto, there is no one single or central place for circumscribing all the activity in which the SIU system is involved.

It manifests itself in many ways in many places, radiating from the focal administrative responsibilities vested either at Carbondale or Edwardsville.

Its activities about a School of Medicine in Springfield, a School of Dental Medicine in Alton, an Urban Center in East St. Louis, family practice centers in Carbondale, Decatur, Quincy and Springfield, and Regional Health Education Centers in 12 Illinois communities.

Community assistance through research and service is another example of this dynamic presence whether it be Godfrey, which has requested assistance in studying the benefits of consolidation; in Carini, where economic development assistance has been given; in such Northern Illinois communities as Glen Ellyn and Kankakee, which have benefited from waste treatment courses taught by the Environmental Resources Training Center; or in over 30 counties where credit-free public service activities are offered.

SIU's dynamic presence extends to the Chicago area, meeting the fire safety education needs of that great urban center.

It reaches from coast to coast and to foreign countries, with programs providing educational services in such geographically and culturally diverse places as

San Diego, Washington, D.C., Poland, Egypt and Nepal. Faculty research extends that presence by creating new knowledge which benefits all of mankind.

In addition to people and places, programs are also essential to the case we must carry to the public.

The system, through its two universities, offers a combined total of 122 undergraduate programs, plus 98 at the master's level, 22 doctoral and four professional programs, making it one of the largest and most comprehensive university systems in the country.

But numbers are only the surface of the story. We only deserve to survive if we fulfill our commitment to service and measure up to high standards of quality.

A hallmark of this system has been its awareness of the society which supports it and which asks us to foster further growth. Let me quote what President Emeritus Delyte W. Morris said in 1961: "Historically, Southern Illinois University has always attempted to respond to the needs of the area rather than rejecting them."

"To reject such ideas would be inconsistent with the accepted responsibilities of a publicly supported institution of higher learning."

"Public opinion as to need had been the stimulant rather than the deterrent to the development of new educational programs."

Much has changed within the system since Dr. Morris uttered these words. In 1961, Carbondale was responding to the post-Sputnik commitment to technological progress by continuing spectacular development and outreach.

Edwardsville was on the point of constructing an admirably planned and attractively designed plant on a tract of 2,600 acres.

Higher education was definitely a growth industry in which the social and financial investment was enormous. Nothing on the horizon indicates a return to those days.

Yet, even in confronting a more austere era which subjects all of higher education to the inherent wisdom of Dr. Morris' observation remains.

Some speak of threats to our survival. But I would contend that this system, if responsibly managed, can build upon its already existing momentum and reach new heights of excellence in its service to the people of Illinois.

Our people, the places we serve, and the programs we offer — our dynamic presence — will insure that we can continue to enjoy public support.

It will be my challenge as chancellor to guide our growth and sustain our momentum — a challenge which I gladly accept.

The major test that will constantly face all of us is fostering of the creative tension between autonomy for Carbondale and Edwardsville and the need for a coordinated system.

Such a system will be viable only if it protects the integrity and growth of its parts. However, like a natural ecosystem, there are times when the good of the whole must take precedence.

My conviction is that university strength is best achieved by keeping operational decision-making at the appropriate level of interest and responsibility. This means that local decisions should be made locally.

They must be made by presidents who enjoy the trust and confidence of the constituents whom they represent and lead.

Such presidents must have the ability and authority to lead. This is the way to maintain autonomy.

As I have said publicly, I am convinced that this country has the potential for centralization simply for the sake of centralization. It is my view that academic administration needs neither a loud voice nor a big stick.

On the other hand, if our interests are to prosper, an effective system must be developed. We will have to accept an essential sense of system, where, when necessary, overall needs transcend those of individual parts.

For the moment, this will require a spirit of authentic cooperation and a commitment to those ideals which have been realized in the system we presently have.

Achieving the happy balance between centralization and institutional autonomy will not always be easy — but it is the path we must take if we are to remain strong.

I pledge that I will do all within my power to insure that this momentum continues, and ask that we now join together. The citizens of this region and state deserve no less.

I ask that we now join together to insure that the momentum already in force — our dynamic presence — will continue.

Births rise during July

Seventy-four births occurred in the Quad-City area during July, an increase of 15 over the 59 births recorded during the same month a year ago, according to a vital statistics report released by City Clerk Robert Stevens.

There were 36 deaths last month, a decline of two below 38 in the same month a year ago, the report said.

Two fatalities occurred last month, up from one reported in July 1978.

July births brought to 411 the total for the first seven months of this year, compared with 419 for the same period a year ago. There were four fatal deaths during the period, down from seven during the same period a year ago.

Last month's 36 deaths brought the total for the seven months to 307, as compared with 273 during the same period in 1978.

School milk cost rises

Students in the Granite City public schools will pay seven cents for each extra half-pint carton of milk in the upcoming school year under a contract awarded by the Board of Education to Prairie Farms Dairy last week.

The price is two cents higher than the five cents students paid at the end of the last school year for each carton of milk. A total of 1,430,882 cartons of milk were dispensed in the Granite City schools during the last school year. Most were included in the price of plate lunches, but 311,829 extra cartons were sold during the year.

O.L. Overhuler, director of the school lunch program for the district, told the board he studied several ways to supply milk to students and found that continuing to use the half-pint cartons and allowing the dairy to supply coolers and straws is the most economical way.

Use of bulk milk dispensers and glasses would be undesirable due to sanitation and the cost of washing the glasses, he told the board. Overhuler said he studied the cost of purchasing coolers for the milk, rather than having the dairy supply coolers and straws and found the half-cent per carton reduction the dairy would offer in return would not save the district money.

He estimated the coolers would cost about $25,000 and found that the Alton school district, which has its own coolers paid about $1,600 last year alone on maintenance of the coolers.

Prairie Farms would reduce the price of milk to the district by one-half cent per carton, if the district supplies the coolers and straws. The school district then could only charge six cents per carton, rather than seven, because federal regulations limit the price the school districts can charge, based upon the average dairy cost.

The result would be that students would get milk one cent cheaper, but taxpayers would have to pay about $25,000 for coolers, plus maintenance of them, and the income to cafeterias would decline more than $3,000.

Federal reimbursements for lunches under the U.S. Department of Agriculture free lunch program also would decline with the half-cent decrease in the cost of the milk, reducing cafeteria income by approximately another $1,588.

Considering all those factors, Overhuler said, a $25,000 investment in coolers, plus the cost of maintaining them would only save the school district about $2,497 per year and it would take about 10 years to recover the cost of the coolers.

He said the increase in the price of milk is not a sudden development and noted milk started at four cents per extra carton the beginning of the last school year and had to be increased to five cents March 1.

Board Member Dewey Mellon suggested the district continue to "explore other possibilities" for providing milk at the lowest possible cost in upcoming years, but agreed to accept the Prairie Farms bid for this year. The bid was accepted unanimously.

Board fills nurse vacancy

The Granite City Board of Education has filled one vacancy for a school nurse, bringing the number of nurses employed to 10 for the upcoming school year.

Previously, the board agreed to reduce the number of nurses from 13 and the number had reached 10, but a resignation dropped that number to nine.

Vasil E. Jimoff, administrative assistant for pupil personnel services for the district, told the board he feels 10 nurses are essential for a sound health program.

The board then hired Carol Farnsworth, 29, of Granite City to fill the nursing vacancy.

They also hired Carol Reinking as a school psychologist and Mark Studnicki to teach industrial arts at Granite City High School South.

One retirement and three resignations were accepted with regrets. Retiring is Ruby Miller, a cafeteria worker at Marshall School. Resignations were submitted by Gilbert Beck, physical education teacher at South, Pamela Weyhaupt, teacher at Marylin School, and William Smoltz, an art teacher at South.

ILLINOIS DIRECTOR OF LABOR VISITS GRANITE CITY

William Bowling, Illinois Director of Labor, accompanied by M. E. (Mike) Hogan - Labor Conciliator, called on his old friend Willard Herzog, President of Local 1715, United Auto Workers Union. Together they visited the local offices of the Department of Labor-Employment Services and Unemployment Services at 1820 Cleveland Blvd. They met with Don Hamner-Manager of Unemployment Insurance and Darryl Stites-Manager of Job Services.

At the office of Local Union 1715 UAW, Willard Herzog introduced Director William Bowling and Labor Conciliator M. E. (Mike) Hogan to Gene Tondre - Chairman of the Board of Directors of Specialized Services, Inc., a rehabilitation agency serving the handicapped citizens of Madison County, Illinois.

Gene Tondre escorted the group to the Granite City facility of the Specialized Services, Inc., located at 2118 Grand Ave., where Manager Jerry Kane conducted a tour, with the clients at work. Shown below are a few of the contract jobs performed at the center.

Specialized Services is a rehabilitation agency serving the mentally, physically, and emotionally handicapped citizens of Madison County, Illinois. The organization is a non-profit community agency governed by a Board of Directors representing a cross section of the communities served and sponsored by Advisory Councils of interested citizens and parents.

The organization was formed in 1961 through the efforts of a group of concerned parents who joined together in search of a means of educating and training their handicapped sons and daughters who had completed their formal education in the public school systems. Their main goal was to establish a training program which would aid the handicapped clients to become contributing members of society by learning to be as independent and productive as their abilities would allow.

Specialized Services presently has two facilities, one serving the Southern Region of Madison County and is located at 2118 Grand Avenue, Granite City, Illinois with 17,000 sq. ft. of space and one serving the Northern Region at 50 Oak Street, Alton, Illinois with 40,000 sq. ft. of space. The Southern Region facility serves approximately 100 handicapped clients in programs of Work Adjustment Training, Sheltered Employment and Work Activities. The Northern facility serves approximately 200 clients in program of Vocational Evaluation, Work Adjustment Training, Sheltered Employment and Work Activities. The Vocational Evaluation Program housed in the Northern facility serves clients from the entire County.

From a modest beginning 18 years ago of 6 clients and 2 staff members, the agency now serves an average of 300 clients on a daily basis, with a staff of 55.

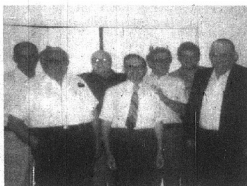

Specialized Services is financed from tuition fees provided by the Illinois Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, Grants from the Department of Mental Health and the Madison County Community Health Board, special grants from the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, contributions and income derived from Production contracts. Income from Production Contracts is used to pay the wages of the clients.

Specialized Services has diversified training, can provide able employees, meet deadlines for production requirements, provide quality control and offer competitive bids. A Contract Specialist is available to discuss contracts and provide bids.

Rail car demand aids American Steel here

AMSTED Industries sales in the nine months ending June 30 increased in each major product category compared to last year.

Railroad product sales of 332.0 million were up $78.7 million, or 31 percent, reflecting the continuing high level of freight car building and strong demand for components for repair.

The railroad product plants include American Steel Foundries in Granite City.

General industrial product sales amounted to $154.5 million, an increase of $17.0 million, or 12 percent over the first nine months of last year.

Sales of construction and building products in the first three quarters were $154.1 million, up $36 million, or 30 percent, a significant portion of which is due to the inclusion of Henry Pratt Co. It was acquired as of May 1, 1978, and was included in only two months of the comparable quarterly period last year. The AMSTED year begins Oct. 1.

Four-to-date margins in the railroad and general industrial segment, margins were below last year's level, attributable in part to increased scrap prices.

AMSTED's backlog of orders at June 30, 1979, amounted to a record $459,000,000, compared to $355,000,000 at Sept. 30, 1978, and $284,000,000 a year ago.

The composition by industry category is essentially unchanged from the record backlog reported three months ago.

Orders for freight car components made up the largest segment of the backlog and constituted the largest portion of the increases in backlog over both a year ago and Sept. 30.

Approximately 125,000 new freight cars were on order to be built by the industry on June 30, compared to 69,000 a year ago and 87,000 at the beginning of the fiscal year. The backlog of orders for general industrial products is also up from the beginning of the fiscal year and from the level a year ago.

Much of this increase reflects the level of orders from automotive companies for filtration and material handling equipment for facilities being constructed to produce vehicles which meet government-mandated mileage standards.

Orders for construction and building products are up slightly from both the start of the fiscal year and from the year-ago period. The drop in housing starts has resulted in a flattening of incoming orders for this category of business.

During the first nine months of fiscal 1979, additions to property amounted to $15,800,000. Based on present plans, capital expenditures in fiscal 1979 and 1980 combined will total approximately $80,000,000, excluding acquisitions.

Accounts receivable at June 30 were up 20 percent from both the beginning of the year and from a year ago, reflecting, in part, the higher level of sales. The number of days' sales outstanding is also up, but remain under good control, it was asserted.

As announced earlier, there were record sales and earnings in the nine months ended June 30. Sales totaled $640,607,000, up $131,740,000, or 26 percent from the same period a year ago.

Earnings were $47,701,000, or $4.43 per share, up from $35,787,000, or $3.32 per share a year ago.

Joseph B. Lanterman, chairman, and Goff Smith, president, have noted that net income amounted to 7.5 percent of net sales compared to 7.0 percent. The improved margin results from an increased volume of shipments throughout the period, and the favorable impact of the lower federal income tax rate that became effective for all corporations on Jan. 1, 1979.

In the three months ended June 30, sales were $228,705,000, up $29,277,000 from the June quarter last year. Net income was $16,726,000, or $1.55 per share, up from $15,454,000, or $1.43 per share.

Net income in the June quarter amounted to 7.4 percent of net sales compared to 7.8 percent in the same quarter last year. The lower margin was principally the result of a 12-week work stoppage at the Bessemer, Ala., wheel plant, which was settled in late June.

Inventories are up from the start of the year because of seasonal factors and up slightly from a year ago. AMSTED had $12,300,000 in cash and short term investments and no borrowings under its revolving credit agreements at June 30.

Lanterman and Smith said, "Based on the high demand for freight car components, coupled with the good level of orders for general industrial and construction and building products, earnings for the last fiscal quarter are expected to exceed those in the comparable quarter a year ago. This will result in another excellent year for AMSTED."

AMSTED Industries' board of directors has declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents per share payable on Sept. 14 to stockholders of record as of the close of business on Aug. 20.

This is the same as the last quarter, and is an increase of 13 cents or 35 percent over the rate paid one year ago.

'Hospice,' BPW topic

The Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club heard further details concerning the new hospice concept at the July dinner meeting held last week at the Granite City Township Building, 2060 Delmar Ave.

The speakers were the Rev. Charlotte Zachary, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church in Madison, and Becky Slate, director of Volunteer Programs at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Both women discussed plans and reviewed specific strides now being taken toward starting a hospice movement in the Quad-City area.

The concept involves home care for terminally ill patients using trained volunteers and family members.

Also addressing the business women was Miss Annellen Smith, second vice president of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women, who spoke on membership and its importance to the organization.

Miss Smith served as BPW state membership chairman for two years and led Illinois in surpassing other states in recruiting new members. LaVelle Stephens, president, was in charge of the business session, included on the agenda was the adoption of proposed budgets for the coming club year.

A dinner meeting is scheduled Aug. 15 at Roustio's Restaurant, Collinsville.

Development grant application endorsed

At its monthly meeting last week, the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board of directors endorsed a Community Development Block Grant application submitted by Madison County, Ill., for $4,252,000 in funds for housing rehabilitation, public services, clearance activities and code enforcement.

The application was made under the Small Cities Single Purpose Program and will substantially benefit low and moderate-income families, a Gateway spokesman said.

In other actions, the Gateway board: —Endorsed a request by the Illinois Department of Transportation to add a structural analysis study of two Mississippi River bridges (Martin Luther King and Eads) to the Transportation Improvement Program (TIP) and to the annual element for 1980.

The TIP, updated annually in response to federal requirements, is a five-year schedule of improvements proposed for the region's highway and transit networks. The annual element includes projects scheduled to be funded during the first year of the TIP.

—Approved a draft environmental impact statement for proposed improvements at Lambert-St. Louis International Airport and the relocation of Lindbergh Boulevard and Brown Road. The improvements and an associated environmental impact assessment report were endorsed by the board earlier this year.

—Endorsed a draft environmental impact statement for the Alton Beltline Extension (FAP Route 789 Spur). The proposed project will extend from the Alton Beltline Highway's present terminus at College Avenue (Ill. Route 140) in northeast Alton to Broadway in southeast Alton and is to include reconstruction of the "thousand island" intersection complex.

The cost of the project, which has been under consideration for a period of years, is estimated at $14 million. The project is expected to improve traffic flow and encourage additional growth and development for the Alton area, it was related.

—Endorsed a draft negative declaration for the East St. Louis railroad-highway conflict demonstration project.

A negative declaration is an environmental study which determines that there will be no significant environmental impact resulting from a proposal. The proposed improvements, which include construction of several grade separations, are expected to improve traffic flow on major arterial streets in East St. Louis. The proposal is called consistent with applicable EWGCC plans.

—Adopted the St. Louis area Transportation Improvement Program (TIP) for fiscal years 1980 through 1984.

Gasoline Optimist discussion

The U.S. government's national allocation program has been a major contributor to the gasoline lines in the last month, according to an oil industry executive who spoke to the Granite City Optimist Club.

"Allocations of gasoline to dealers are subject to government regulations," W. S. McAndrew, district manager of Mobil Oil Corporation, explained.

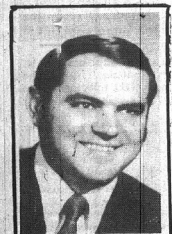

"And like most government regulations, they can mess up matters. A dealer in a ski resort, whose sales were up sharply last winter, may get more gasoline in spring and summer than he could ever sell in spring and summer—while some other dealer gets shorted."

McAndrew listed several reasons for America's current problems. Apart from government's allocation program, he discussed the impact of the Iranian revolution on U.S. energy supplies, and warned that the U.S. could soon face a shortage of refining capacity.

McAndrew criticized the present anti-business mood in congress, and warned that confidence in private enterprise, as well as a secure energy supply, is essential if the U.S. economy is to continue to expand.

School maintenance costs rise

It's budget cutting time in the Granite City school district, where tentative projections have been placed on public display. Adoption of the final budget will follow a hearing at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 4.

The Board of Education, still lacking data on replacement taxes and payroll costs, has listed $23,866,394 for the 1979-80 fiscal year which began July 1. This is $693,940 less than the 1978-79 budget of $24,560,334.

Proposed budget figures are: $19,617,679 for education, down $1,073,225 from $20,690,904.

Operations, building and maintenance $1,682,150, up $415,390 from $1,266,760.

Bonds and interest $919,375, down $162,625 from $1,082,000.

Transportation $1,017,100, up $66,580 from $950,520.

And $650,000 for Illinois Municipal Retirement, up $40,000 from $610,000.

Budget preparation has been handled under the guidance of Superintendent of Schools R. J. Davis and Director of Business Affairs Tully A. Heubner.

"Estimated income and proposed expenditures have been outlined," Heubner said.

"Detail is shown on both a cash flow and an accrual basis. All sums, other than income and expense, will not agree in the two projections."

"The accrual basis budget represents those expenditures estimated to be earned during the 1979-80 fiscal year, together with the proposed expenditures and encumbrances for that period."

"The cash flow section represents actual cash on hand, with cash expected to be received during 1979-80, together with actual cash to be paid out during this period."

"The cash flow section of the budget includes the projected tax warrants which will be necessary, as well as redemption of outstanding warrants at the end of the 1978-79 school year, along with the cash balance brought forward. Taxes shown on the accrual basis will not be received until the 1980-81 school year."

"Due to the unknown status of the corporate personal property taxes, and as to how the mechanics of the replacement tax will be handled through the taxation process, projecting of tax rates and levies at this time is somewhat limited."

"However, in the tentative budget, I have assumed that the revenues generated from the corporate personal property for this year will be replaced for the 1980-81 school year, and which will show on the accrual side of the budget as revenues in lieu of taxes."

"Our 1978 actual assessed valuation was $247,209,556. Of

Life Safety Fund	.05	.05	.05
Working Cash Fund	.05	.05	.05
	3.772	3.78	3.3555

$75,640,615.00 is in corporate personal property and capital stock. This amount will have to be deducted for levying purposes, leaving a current assessed valuation of real property of $171,568,941.

"In projecting revenues on the actual side of the budget, we have projected an increase in assessed valuation to $190,000,000," Heubner said.

"This increase has been projected to, hopefully, insure that our maximum tax rates for the Education Fund, Operations, Building and Maintenance Fund, and Transportation Fund will be extended."

"If, when the actual assessed valuation is known, it is more than the one projected, the estimated tax rates will drop proportionately. However, if the actual assessed valuation is less than the $190,000,000, the levies extended will be reduced to that amount that can be produced by the maximum tax rates applied to the actual assessed valuation."

"Since we are levying the maximum rate for the Education Fund, Operations, Building and Maintenance Fund, Transportation Fund, Working Cash Fund, and Life Safety Fund, the tax rates cannot be increased over the projected rates. However, there could possibly be a reduction.

"There could be a possible loss of revenues in these funds if the actual assessed valuation is less than projected. The rate for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund could either increase or decrease, depending on the actual assessed valuation for 1979."

"At the time the tentative budget is presented, we have not received any definite printouts for our state aid. However, the governor has signed an appropriation bill and a revised state aid formula which will provide our district an estimated $10,255,336."

"This is an increase of $243,288 over what we actually received this past year. And it is $985,987 more than what we would have received under the old formula, according to the most recent printouts we had available."

"If the formula had not been revised, we would have lost $742,699."

"The funding of Special Education, Transportation, and other categorical aids will, in all probability, be pro-rated. The tentative budget includes the most realistic pro-rating factors we have presently."

"Of course, the state aid and any other state funding could be changed from the tentative budget if presented, and the time for adoption of the budget."

"The projected Education fund revenue increase over last year's Budget is $908,219.00. Of this amount, $837,329 is in increased state aid and taxes."

"The actual basic budget estimates an increase of $1,084,151. However, of this amount, $639,835 is in taxes receivable and not available until the 1980-81 school year."

"If the actual assessed valuation is less than the amount projected, or if the corporate personal property taxes are not replaced as budgeted, this tax rate would be reduced proportionately."

"Replacement of the personal property tax is essential. The chart below shows the effect of this revenue in our Budget."

"Revenues estimated to be generated by taxes on corporate personal property for 1979-80 school year, using current tax rates:

Education, $1,928,835.
Building, $228,000.
Transportation, $90,000.
Illinois municipal retirement, $198,934.
Working cash, $37,800.
Total, $2,575,569.

"The education expenditures in this year's budget are $1,917,479. This is $1,073,225 less than the 1978-79 budget."

"The major reductions have been in the area of salaries and fixed charges. We have provided for 630 certificated salary scheduled personnel in this budget, and have moved them on the existing schedule, if qualified."

"Administrative salaries and all non-certificated salaries are based on last year's expenditures, with any adjustments made in staff reductions. In all categories, we have taken into consideration the reductions made in staffings from last year."

"In the fixed charges area, we have reduced the budget and $171,067.00. This is due to the self-insurance programs that we have initiated in the areas of workmen's compensation and health insurance."

"Also included in the fixed charges budget for the first time is $47,200 for payments under our early retirement incentive plan."

"In addition to the expenditures shown, we have $1,640,000 in outstanding tax warrants which must be paid with the receipt of tax revenues. And we must also repay a $118,000 loan from the education fund to the working cash fund."

Heubner noted. The building fund budget has been increased over last year's by $415,390, due basically to the large amount of money added in the remodeling area of the budget."

"When our bond and interest payments are made in September, our bonded indebtedness for building construction will have been paid off. We will have approximately $515,000 which has been earned over the years through investments."

"Following payment in September of our last bond and interest payment, the School Code allows a school district to transfer surplus funds into their operating budget. However, this money must be deposited into the building fund."

"Much of the work included in the building fund remodeling has been included in the work listed as necessary in case a possible bond issue is presented to the people."

"In addition to the expenditure budget, we will have $190,000 in building fund tax warrants that must be paid out of taxes received. As in the education fund, all salaries in the building fund have been included at last year's actual cost, plus any known negotiated increases."

"The bond and interest fund is shown on a cash basis only, as there will not be any tax levies made on our current bonded debt. When we make our final payment in September, this district will have all of its buildings paid for. The interest that has accrued over the year from investments will be transferred into the Building Fund to, we hope, make some of the major repairs necessary."

"The tentative budget in the Illinois municipal retirement fund will be $650,000, an increase of $60,000 over last year's. This is due to projected increased salaries on which we will have to pay retirement."

"However, we plan to reduce our tax levy due to the cash balance that we had at the end of the fiscal year. It is necessary that we carry a $100,000 balance in order to meet our June obligation of the first week of July."

"Taking this into consideration, and with the cash balance we now have, we can still reduce our tax levies, and to levy to continue to keep this fund self-supporting."

"Transportation fund expenditures have been increased 11.2 percent over what we actually spent last year in each category. Therefore, we are assuming that we will use the same number of buses, run the same routes, and take the same number of field trips including athletics, band and speech."

"However, we have increased our gasoline cost by 35 percent due to the recent gasoline problems. We have also increased the contingency in this fund from $13,000 to $20,000 due to the

Raises granted in bridge budget bill

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

McKinley bridge employees will receive a $1,000 raise in the 1979-80 bridge preliminary budget which was passed at the Venice City Council Tuesday.

Bridge employees have for several years been paid less than laborers on the city payroll. The raise will bring them about to parity with city employees, officials said.

Thomas Fields, bridge manager, noted that bridge employees lack other benefits given to city employees such as longevity pay.

A copy of the preliminary budget has been sent to Hardesty and Hanover, consulting engineers, who must also approve the budget.

After the council and the engineers approve the preliminary budget, it is then sent to key stockholders, and banks and is available for inspection for a period of about 30 days.

The budget will come back to the council for final approval after the waiting period.

Alderman John Ervin called for an investigation into the Venice telephone bill. Ervin noted that 48 calls had been made from two St. Louis numbers and charged to the city telephone.

Alderman Victor Valentine Jr. questioned the Venice police enforcement of no parking violations on Market and Weaver streets.

The question of police unknown status of gasoline pricing.

"The total increase in the transportation budget over last year's will be $86,560. But part of this increased cost will be picked up through increased revenues from the state for transportation purposes."

"The state claim we filed for transportation, based on this past year's operations, amount to $551,127."

"Using the best pro-rating figures we have available at this time, this will provide revenues of $483,000, up $43,660 over last year's budget."

"Even with the increased state claims, increased taxes, and student fees, which we collect, the revenues will not support the transportation budget. Therefore, we need budgeted $185,000 of state aid into this fund."

enforcing the 11 p.m. curfew was also discussed by the council.

Alderman Hank A. Svezia said, "Why can't anything be done about these motorcycles? They keep racing up and down our streets at all hours of the night and keeping people awake."

Mayor Tyrone Echols said, "I am aware of what you are talking about and I will speak to the chief to see if we can't improve on the enforcement."

Three building permits were approved by the council, a nine room frame house at 1313 Klein St. valued at $88,000, permit granted to Bobby Simms; a garage and den permit, $7,830, 1138 Market St., given to Freddie Williams, and Frank Townsend, 1101 Calhoun St., for a room addition at $1,000.

Skate-a-thon at the Stardust

St. Louis areawide team competition and roller rinks here and at Northwest Plaza will highlight this year's Jerry Lewis benefit Skate-A-Thon on Sept. 2-3. The Roller Skate Rink Operators of America (RSROA) will be a co-sponsor, including the Stardust, which will benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

A total of nine roller skating rinks in the metropolitan area will be participating in the program, including the Stardust Roller Rink in Pontoon Beach.

"This year's program is different than the last few years," said MDA Program Coordinator Ken Pieper. "But we need 1979 could be our best year for Skate-A-Thons in St. Louis."

Different it is. Skaters will sign up to be on one of four teams, each team led by a different KSLQ disc jockey. Then, instead of skating eight to 12 hours as in the past, skaters will skate a four-hour shift for their disc jockey. The time of the shift depends on the team the skaters sign up for.

"We feel that a four-hour shift will enable more to participate in the program," said Pieper. "Skaters who have had to work, or who have made other plans for Labor Day, or who just couldn't skate for eight hours can now join in to help Jerry's kids."

The four-hour individual shifts will start at 7 p.m. on Sept. 2, and 12 midnight, 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Sept. 3. In addition, many rinks are planning all-night skating to benefit the MDA.

"To kick off the Skate-A-Thon campaign, a pre-party involving a KSLQ disc jockey will be held by each rink. The pre-party at Stardust Roller Rink will be on Saturday, Aug. 11, from 7 to 9 p.m. with Mike Walker.

The team that raises the most money throughout the St. Louis area will be the guest of RSROA and KSLQ at the St. Louis Cardinal baseball game on Saturday, Sept. 8, against the Montreal Expos.

All money will be pre-collected and brought to the rink on the day of the event. To be eligible to be on the team, the skater must have collected $30.

"Pre-collection is a lot easier on the skater, since they only have to make their rounds once," said Pieper. "We regret having to set up a minimum amount to be a member of a team, but in order to hold down costs, it is necessary. We encourage those people who don't have $30 still to come out and join in the Skate-A-Thon."

In addition to the nine rinks participating, a roller skating rink will be built at Northwest Plaza to enable more skaters to join in the event.

This is the fourth consecutive year that the RSROA has held Skate-A-Thons for MDA. Last year, more than $2.3 million was pledged to MDA by RSROA.

This is also the fourth year that the station has been involved with MDA. KSLQ will broadcast from the middle of the skating rink at Northwest Plaza during the Skate-A-Thon.

Skaters may sign up at participating rinks. The annual MDA telethon will be held nationally Sept. 2-3.

DeRousse, mates given heroes' welcome

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY —

Randy DeRousse returned home Sunday to a hero's welcome.

A large sign at the entrance to his parent's home spelled out the welcome in colorful block letters.

Gathered in the back yard, local soccer enthusiasts, friends, and even State Senator Sam Vadalbene, were there to pay homage.

In a community devoted to the sport of soccer, DeRousse had pushed the list of accomplishments of area players to an even higher plateau.

DeRousse was a member of a very select team of young (18-and-under) soccer players who had gone to Los Angeles to compete against a team of similar players from France.

The path to Los Angeles began in Colorado Springs, Col. where

Press-Record Sports

DeRousse, along with fellow Granite City soccer players Jack Burnette, Tony Pierce, and David Fernandez, had been among 72 of the most talented young players in the country selected to participate in the National Sports Festival at the U.S. Olympic Training Site.

DeRousse was informed by coaches Tuesday night that he was to be a member of National Junior Cup team.

"We left Friday for Los Angeles," DeRousse said. "We had a short workout in the afternoon Saturday before we played that evening."

Although the team lost to the French 1-0, DeRousse said the game was practically even. "We had one goal called back," he said.

"It was close even though they've been together four years and we were together only about two weeks."

After the game DeRousse spent the night in Los Angeles, then Saturday night caught a plane for St. Louis.

His return home was as welcomed by DeRousse as those who gathered to honor him. "I've been gone for about three weeks," he said. "But it seems like two months."

Joining DeRousse as guests of honor Sunday were the three teammates, Burnette, Fernandez, and Vadalbene praised the group for its outstanding achievements and presented DeRousse with a flag of the State of Illinois to "carry with him wherever he traveled to play soccer."

DeRousse said the selection to the National Junior Cup team came as big surprise to him. "There were 72 players and they all were the best in the country. There six guys from St. Louis, one from Washington, two from California, one from Texas, and one from Florida on the team."

Before the final selection to the Junior Cup team the Midwest Select team, on which the Granite City players competed, won a gold medal.

Paddler's finish 3rd in conference meet

ALTON — Paddlers Swim Club of Granite City was edged here Saturday by arch-rival Gas Light of Collinsville for second place at the seven-team Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association championships at Summers-Port in Godfrey.

The host team won its sixth team title in seven years with 480 points, but Gas Light's team rose to the challenge to edge Paddlers of Granite City and Montclair of Edwardsville in the battle for the second place trophy. The Gators appeared to rate no better than fourth after the preliminary events, but they improved their positions in 25 of the 38 events in which they placed qualifiers for the finals.

Gas Light finished with 348 points, eight-and-a-half ahead of Paddlers, which had 339½. Defending champion Montclair was fourth with 222 followed by Sunset Hills of Edwardsville, 234; Bellefontaine of St.

Louis, 154½, and Dorchester of Belleville, 154.

Gas Light's victory over Paddlers might be greater however when the results are given a final official check. An unofficial review Sunday showed the Gators with 359 points.

Paddlers got the bulk of its points from one division - the 11 to 12 girls. The star of that group was Cindy Stroheide, who won three individual races and was a member of the Paddlers' winning Medley Relay team. She won the 100 yard freestyle in a time of 1:03.27, took the 100 yard individual medley in 1:24.41 and won the 50 yard backstroke in a time of 35.21. She then teamed up with J'Lynn Hankins, Jill Kalicki and Linda Kuberski to win the Medley Relay in a time of 2:25.06. Also winning in the 11-12 girls group was Paddlers 200 yard freestyle relay - a member of which was Stroheide. Kuberski, Patty Graebel, Kim Mushill and Stroheide teamed up to win it in a time of 2:05.96.

Stroheide was tied with Cherie Neidenbach of Bellefontaine Eagles for high-point champion of the division with 19.

Vince Darnell of Paddlers gave his team its only chance in the 8-and-under boys division when he won the 25 yard backstroke in a time of 21.60 seconds.

In the 9 to 10 boys division, Paddlers' John Amisch was th champion of the 50 yard fly race with a time of 38.53 seconds.

Jason Jolly of Paddlers took the championship of the 11 to 12 boys division 50 yard backstroke race when he came in with a first-place time of 34.44 seconds.

Paddlers 15-17 boys freestyle relay team took the championship of that race with a time of 1:40.02. Members of the squad were Kelly Mann, Pat Mushill, Scotty Buenger and John Becherer.

Barbara Baggot was the champion of the 15 to 17 girls

50-yard freestyle when she won the finals in a time of 26.96 seconds.

In the race for gold medals (first place), Montclair led the way with 20 firsts, followed by Summers-Port with 16, Sunset Hills with 14 and Paddlers with 10.

Tom Jager of Paddlers won three individual gold medals and also swam on the Gators' winning 15-17 medley relay. Carig Gaume was the only other individual gold medal winner for the Gators, who also earned firsts in the 8-and-under girls medley relay and the 13-14 boys free relay.

Jager, who won't be 15 until December, swam in the upper age group and set pool records in taking the 100-yard freestyle in 49.15 seconds, the 200-yard individual medley in 2:06.06 and the 100-yard butterfly in 58.46. All three times bettered Gas Light team records which were held by Jaeger's older brother, Bill.

Special bowlers do well

DECATUR — The Illinois State Special Olympics Bowling meet, which was held Saturday, July 28, 1979, at the Eldorado Bowl in Decatur.

Athletes and their chaperones returned home this week after competing in the state finals. Over 450 participated in the statewide meet by qualifying at the regional contest held in March.

Athletes and their chaperones were housed in dormitories at Millikin University. Friday evening the Decatur Knights held the Decatur Knights Special Olympics banquet and dance.

During the bowling competitions held on Saturday the following Region I students won gold (first place) medals, Dennis Lyerla, Anita Marquis and Tim Redstone. A second place, silver medal, was won by Bruce Senior. Bronze medals were captured by Joey Doroghazi and Curtis Mays. Albert Allen, Mark Lallamant and Darold Mays also competed.

In addition to the medals, Dennis Lyerla and Anita Marquis each won a trophy for rolling the high scratch game in their age divisions. Dennis bowled a 174 and Anita a 166.

The purpose of the Special Olympics is to present opportunities for sports training and athletic competition among handicapped children and adults. The sponsor is the Joseph P. Kennedy Foundation.

'Lite' run

ST. LOUIS — The Anheuser-Busch Natural Light Stadium Run will be held on Sunday, Sept. 30, just before the start of the St. Louis Cardinals final game of the 1979 season.

Sponsored by Natural Light, the Cardinals and the St. Louis Track Club, the race will begin at 11:30 a.m. at Busch Stadium. The course will run 6.2 miles through the streets of downtown St. Louis and return to the finish line on the field.

National standards will determine the handicap start, which means you have the chance to cross the finish line first no matter your age or sex. Prizes and awards will be presented to the first 100 finishers, plus each entrant receives a coupon good for travel to Arlington Heights for the annual American Legion Illinois State Finals.

In both games, Alton fell behind its foes 3-0 after the first inning of play. "That first inning got us Friday and got us again Saturday," said Alton manager Curt Hagen.

Alton defeated Tri City 200 113 of Granite City for the championship of the District 22 North Division on its way to the Fifth Division Tournament.

Handicapped show new skills ... a happy day for kids, teachers and parents

GRANITE CITY — The kids were there. The parents were there and all of the people involved in making the event possible were there. It was a day for awards and demonstration. The youngsters were showing what they had learned in the Handicapped Swimming Program, sponsored here each summer by the Red Cross.

What is a small thing for most children is a major victory for the handicapped child. It is, in some cases, a small miracle. To see a child who cannot walk learn to take care of himself in the water is a heart rending sight.

One by one the kids dived, jumped, or were lifted into the pool. Each demonstrated his or her swimming skills, with their volunteer helper near by. Joanne Higgins, director of the program, told the group how long the child had been in the program and some of the special training involved in teaching each child.

"These kids work with what they've got," she said; "we must tailor the program to each child. A youngster who cannot walk feels great joy in being able to swim."

The bodies may not be perfect, but the spirit is the same in the handicapped child as it is in other children.

Through the program, young people learn that there are many things that they CAN do.

It is with that attitude that the young ones worked. The feeling of accomplishment could be seen on their faces every time they showed a new swimming skill.

Those who volunteered to work in the swimming program did so for many reasons. What they came away with was not only a feeling of doing something for others, but a good idea of the strength of the human spirit.

That spirit was best displayed when the young swimmers received awards for their achievements on Friday morning.

Patience is the prime ingredient in teaching the handicapped to swim, according to Joanne Higgins, and the volunteers showed great patience all during the classes and during the demonstration. "The volunteers are great," she said. "There is no way to thank them. They have worked hard and have done a great job. Some of my volunteer teachers have been with the program for four and five years."

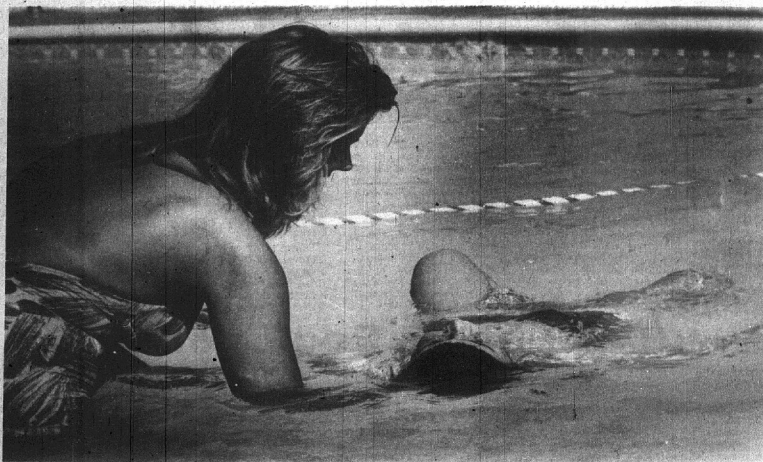

This is the third year that the Roger Bowler family has offered its pool for the classes. Before that, the instruction was given at the residence of Dr. David Friedman. The program is in its fifth year.

The parents were there Friday and one could see the joy in their faces as their little ones showed what they had learned. Cameras clicked and movie cameras caught the action.

There was happiness all around as a party followed the award ceremonies. The children were splashing around in the pool with their helpers. Moms and Dads enjoyed refreshments and watched their youngsters at play. Director Higgins smiled a lot.

It was a genuinely happy day for everyone involved.

Parker isn't Superman, but he's not bad

By TOM SCHOCKER
for the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — When you play a sport in a given school year, you are classified as an athlete. When you play two sports you are called a "jock." However, when you play three sports you're known as "Superman."

Nonsense, you say. How could anybody go through the grueling agony of day-to-day practices and the constant pressure of a three season sport schedule? You say that such a person doesn't exist? Little do the people of Granite City know, but lurking under the folds of an everyday sweaty practice shirt there is such a person.

It wasn't easy to detect but when this true super athlete stepped out of his mild manner student image the crowds looked in awe. The place is Granite City High School South and the person is Jeff Parker.

Parker is one of those rare athletes that you find once in 50 years or maybe longer. A '79 graduate from South, Parker participated in football, basketball and baseball. As if this wasn't enough, he was also voted captain of all three teams.

"It was a real honor to be captain," said a modest Parker. "As for playing three sports, I did in junior high and if I didn't have some type of practice after school I wouldn't know what to do."

With a three sport repertoire it must be hard to single out a favorite. When confronted with the question, Parker sat, thought, and finally with a sigh replied, "I guess I would say that I like baseball the best. I seem to be more consistent."

Parker doesn't tend to talk as much about his baseball ability and neither does his high school head coach Babe Champion. At least the bad points. He had plenty to say about his good points. "It's really hard to say anything bad about Jeff," said Champion. "He works awfully hard."

Parker is well noted for playing third base, but he says he likes shortstop better. Whether he plays short, third or sits the bench, Parker has the respect of his teammates as well as his coach. "Parker does a lot of good things," said Champion. "He doesn't know how really good he is."

There seems to be a general opinion from Parker's coaches that he had a self-determination and a competitiveness that exceeded all bounds. "As a senior he was a true leader," said head basketball coach Don Deterding. "He kept his head and in my opinion he was a winner."

According to Deterding, Parker did not blossom until his senior year even though he was a three-year letterman. "As a junior I told him that if he shot anymore I would break his arm," said Deterding. "So he practiced during the summer on his own and ended up hitting 50 percent from the field and 70 percent from the line. He was a self-made ball player."

Even though his offense shone, his defense was brighter. "He played superbly," said Deterding. "In the 20 years I've been coaching, he was the best defensive player I have ever had."

Seemingly defense is a word that is deeply planted in Parker's mentality. As a two-year letterman in football Parker completely bewildered the offensive opposition as he caused havoc with wide receivers as a defensive back or safety.

"He has tremendous size for a defensive back," said South's head football coach Stan Wojcik. Parker stands at six-foot-three and tips the scale at 190. Wojcik added, "His anticipation was equally good."

Once the offense has been stopped and Parker's defensive assignment is complete, he remains on the field to be the man with all the plays — quarterback. "As a quarterback, Parker was tough and go," said Wojcik. "We had a junior playing, but when we slipped to 1-4 we played Jeff. He helped win our last four games."

Serving as a quarterback had an advantage for Parker. "When I was covering my man as safety, I could read the other QB and know pretty much what he was going to do. That and watching game films help."

According to Wojcik, Parker is possibly one of the top five kids to come through the Granite City South football program since he has been coaching. "There's something special about him," said Wojcik. "He just took to things. He was always on the ball."

Parker's future with athletics will probably emphasize on the gridiron. With choices of Eastern Illinois, a Division II school who had the national champion football team in the nation last year, Southeast

Missouri State and University of Texas at El Paso, Parker made a last minute decision to play for Illinois State.

Several reasons came to Parker's mind for deciding on ISU. A special walk-on offer was proposed by the head football coach, Illinois State is only allotted a certain number of scholarships and they had all the defensive backs they needed. However the coach still asked Parker to come.

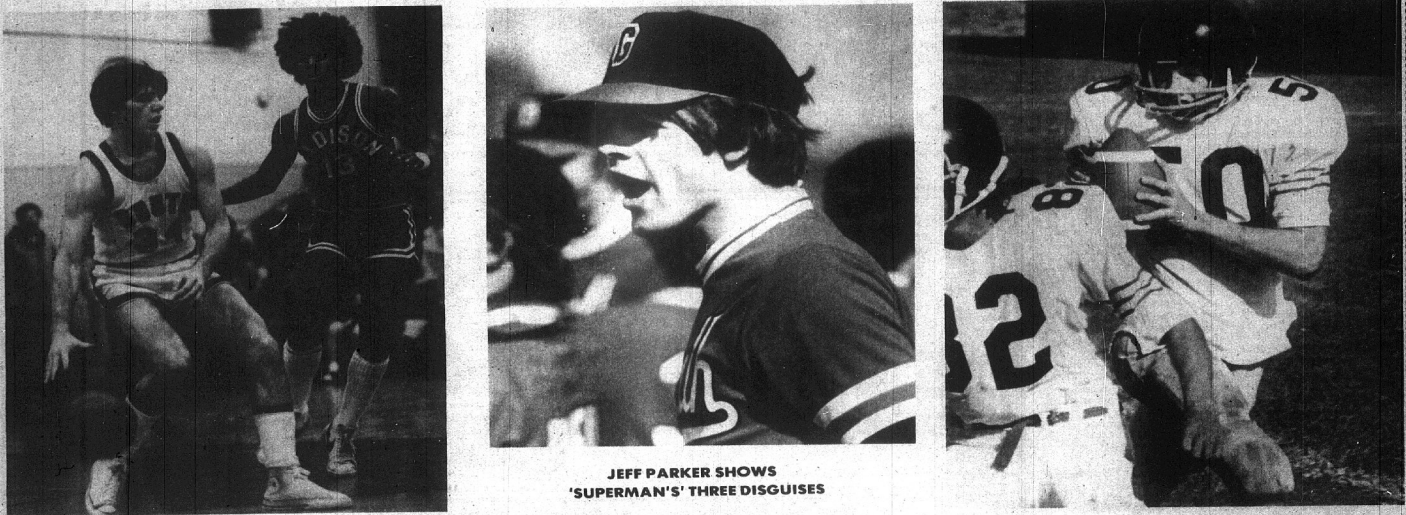

"The coach is pretty good and I have a good shot at making the team," said Parker. "That along with the distance from home and the size of the school made up my mind." Parker will be following a number of Granite City football stars graduating from ISU. "I believe Russ Chappell, Nick Petrillo and Roger Smith all went to ISU," said Parker. "It's pretty well known."

Being a freshman at a big university is tough enough let alone going out for a sport. "I have great expectations for this kid," said Coach Wojcik. "I think he's good enough for the traveling squad."

In addition to playing football will try his hand and bat as a walk-on with the baseball squad. "I could possibly play three sports at a small school," said Parker, "but at ISU the sports overlap and my grades would be hurting."

The future of Jeff Parker is sparkling. Who knows, if the students of Illinois State look real close they might see a guy stepping into a phone booth, pulling his shirt off and

Timely completion of nuclear plant urged

Royal B. Newman, executive vice-president of Decatur-based Soyland Power Cooperative, last week told an Illinois Commerce Commission hearing in Springfield that his organization and its members would suffer financially if Illinois Power Company is unable to maintain funding of the nuclear-powered electric generating plant now under construction near Clinton.

He was not supporting the company's rate increase request, he said, but took issue with what he termed "rash statements" others have made before the commission about IP construction management and delays involving Clinton Power Station Unit One.

Newman testified on behalf of Soyland as an intervenor in Commerce Commission hearings on a request by IP for increased rates and inclusion of the construction cost of the Clinton project in Illinois Power's rate base. Soyland is a joint owner with IP and Western Illinois Power Cooperative of the Clinton Power Station.

"Our share is 10.5 percent of the 950-megawatt Clinton Unit One," Newman explained after his ICC testimony. "This means we will receive 100 megawatts of generation from the unit, enough electric energy to meet 20 percent of the energy requirements of the 15 electric distribution cooperatives that own Soyland Power Cooperative."

Newman testified that timely completion of Clinton Unit One is important. "A delay of one year in the completion date is estimated to cost upwards of $21 million for replacement power alone," he added that Soyland would face other costs due to such a delay, including a share of construction cost escalation and additional financing costs.

"These are all costs that, if incurred at Clinton Unit One, will ultimately have to be born by the 114,000 consumers who are the member-owners of the distribution cooperatives that own Soyland," Newman said.

He added that he is confident that the 1982 completion target for Clinton will be met.

"We were concerned early on when the Illinois Regulatory Commission issued a staff report estimating construction completion to be June 1983," he said.

After that report, Soyland retained Gibbs and Hill of New York, a nationally recognized engineers and contractors on nuclear and coal fired generating plants, to conduct an independent analysis of the progress.

"I was prepared to report to the commission that the consultants concluded Clinton Unit One is not 14 months behind schedule as frequently has been mentioned," Newman said.

The consultants estimated the project is 29 weeks behind schedule and that "there is a good probability that further slippage in the schedule will not occur and that some lost ground can be regained."

Newman said that as part owner of the power station, Soyland is concerned with the unit's final cost and its timely completion.

"We and our cooperatives are in much the same position as Illinois Power's rate payers," he said. "We have a definite need for the electric energy Clinton Unit One is scheduled to produce in 1982, and we do not want to pay any more for that energy than we have to."

He said that based on the cooperatives' observations, and those of the consulting engineers, he remains confident in the relations with Illinois Power and the overall management of Clinton Unit One.

Helplessness not always hopeless

(American Psychological Association)

Most of us just assume we can control simple happenings in our daily lives. We go outside to start our car or walk to the corner to catch a bus with the calm expectation that the car will start and that we will go to work, or that the bus will come and take us on a familiar route.

But for some individuals, making simple choices which allow them to take charge of everyday activities is almost impossible. With children, this situation is particularly unfortunate. Picture the small boy who will not try to ride a new tricycle in spite of the pleadings and safety assurances of his insistent parents. The child thinks, in advance, that he will fall from the bike, that it won't work for him as it does for other children, that he will fail.

This child may be a victim of learned helplessness. Those afflicted by learned helplessness don't persevere if faced with initial failure and, worst of all, they don't often want to try anything in the first place.

Psychologist John R. Weisz, Ph.D., at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, is studying children with various mental abilities to determine how this phenomenon works.

Working with children of high, normal and low IQ's, Weisz found that two factors produce learned helplessness in all children. The combination — of successive failures and negative feedback — which makes these failures appear to be beyond the child's control activates the tendency toward learned helplessness.

Weisz's research confirms that, over a long period of time, learned helplessness can become part of the child who repeatedly fails to make events turn out a certain way, and who believes each failure is unexplainable.

It is especially interesting in learned helplessness as a set of circumstances which makes retarded children more helpless than they need to be.

His research reveals that retarded children are far more susceptible to learned helplessness than other children because, from early on, they are allowed to encounter more failures.

Consequently, many retarded children carry a double burden of learned helplessness along with their intellectual shortcomings.

Psychologist Weisz experimented with trying to undo learned helplessness by presenting children with small problems which were easy to work out. Complete but simple explanations were used to prod the children to overcome their initial reluctance to try.

Once a few problems were solved, Weisz found that the positive feedback of success encouraged the children to keep trying.

However, overcoming learned helplessness is not all that easy for the retarded child. Weisz found that — although learned helplessness can decline somewhat on its own as a child gets older — children with higher IQ's tend to overcome it more easily.

Therefore, once learned helplessness has become part of a retarded child's life, it is difficult to overcome.

Making the best of a bad situation

Two weeks ago last Thursday was one of those days, the pits, and I did the only thing that could be done. I started out innocently enough. I got up (a bad move), made myself a cup of coffee and sat down to listen to the morning news on the radio. That was the only part of my day that was normal. My six year old came screaming down the hall, right in the middle of the weather report. "Mom, I broke my leg!", he cried. Of course it was obvious that he had not broken any bones, as his running proved. Yet he waited on. It took me a full 10 minutes to convince him that he was okay.

Let me tell you, dealing with a crying, screaming child before 7 a.m. just isn't any fun. By the time the little scene was over, I was a nervous wreck.

I still had to get ready for work and take the boys to day camp. I walked into the kitchen to find Ross making a half-hearted attempt to clean up the gallon of milk he had just spilled. Oh, brother! I went into my dressing room, to find that the dog had visited there. I could not believe the luck I was having.

I tiptoed around the house, hoping to leave my sleeping husband asleep. No use in promoting any more calamity. My luck continued to be bad when he came staggering out of the bedroom and tripped over the fan.

Now, I was never one to believe in luck. I have always said that you make your own breaks. But on that particular day, if it hadn't have been for bad luck, I'd have had no luck at all, or so the saying goes.

I knew I was next. At any moment something was going to happen. A leftover piece of Skylab, maybe? I don't know what more COULD happen, my day had been going so WELL.

I began to calm down a bit when nothing happened. I got the kids into the car and turned the starter.

You got it. The car wouldn't start.

I glanced at the fuel gauge. No gas! No gas! I had just filled the silly thing. Someone had ripped off my gas.

I took the key out of the ignition, got myself and the boys out of the car, and locked it. I turned and went back into the house.

I called the office and then went back to bed. There was no way I was going to finish that day.

Some days you get the bear, and some days the bear gets you!

Family day at Grace Baptist

A family day and carnival will climax vacation Bible school Sunday, Aug. 12, at Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St.

Other sessions will take place Monday through Friday, Aug. 10, and Sunday, Aug. 12 at 9:30 a.m.

Following the final session on Aug. 12, a carnival will be set up in the church parking area, Pastor Morris Anderson said.

Each youngster who attends Bible school and is accompanied by his parents to the final program will have an opportunity to "dunk" the minister and Robert Patton, music director, on a dunking machine.

Children are being encouraged to bring a friend to the week long program and, by doing so, may receive extra tickets for the carnival, Rev. Anderson said.

The youngster bringing the most friends will earn a free trip to a St. Louis Cardinal baseball game.

To new church assignment

Russell Wigfield, a campus minister for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and a former assistant pastor at Central Christian Church in Granite City, has announced he will be leaving this area to become chaplain of Macalester College, St. Paul, Minn.

Wigfield was one of the first pastors to establish the Campus Ministries at SIUE and worked from his car, because the university did not officially recognize the religious program or provide space for an office.

He first came to SIUE in 1964 after eight years as assistant chaplain for Macalester College, where he met his wife.

ADDED CHARGES

Lawrence Fitzgerald, 21, of 409 Weaver St., Venice, was held in the Venice jail pending court appearance on charges of resisting arrest and disorderly conduct, plus failure to appear. Fitzgerald was seen by police walking in the 300 block of Weaver and they placed him under arrest on outstanding warrants issued June 29 for failure to appear in court on a resisting arrest charge. At the police station Wednesday he allegedly became disorderly and refused to cooperate while being booked. Venice police then charged him with an additional disorderly conduct and resisting arrest charge.

Miss Mank marries Randall A. Lisson

St. John United Church of Christ was the scene of the July 21 nuptials of Sherrie Lynn Mank and Randall A. Lisson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton J. Harrison, 2902 Sunset Drive. Mr. and Mrs. Julian F. Lisson of Granite City are the parents of the groom. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jim Mory before an altar decorated with spring flowers and candles. Organist Alan Milster accompanied soloists John Harrison, an uncle of the bride, and Nora Wasson. They sang "Sunrise, Sunset." Harrison also sang the Lord's Prayer and Mrs. Wasson sang "We've Only Just Begun."

The former Miss Mank chose a Chantilly lace Empire gown with a Queen Anne neckline and fitted, tapered sleeves. The full skirt swept into an attached chapel train. The bride wore a Chantilly band to secure her fingertip veil edged in matching lace. She carried a bouquet of carnations, yellow rosebuds and baby breath.

Maid of honor was Cindy Cowley. Bridesmaids were Debbie and Donna Mank, sisters of the bride, and Toby Lisson, a sister of the groom. Junior bridesmaid was Christine Brimberry.

They were identical gowns of blue organza. Each had a shirred, tiered skirt and a matching capelet. They carried blue lined carnations with blue streamers, and wore matching picture hats.

Jennifer Miller was flower girl, and ring bearer was Scottie Brimberry. Jennifer wore a gown matching those of the bridesmaids in white and carried a white basket with yellow rose petals.

Best man was Terry Ashby. Groomsmen were Donnie Jones, Bud Lindner and Joe Perigan, a brother of the groom. Junior groomsmen were E. C. Adams.

Ushers and candlelighters were Troy Mohon, an uncle of the bride, and Tom Richards, a cousin of the bride. Joe Perigan Jr. attended the altar candles.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Harrison chose a chiffon gown in two tones of blue. The groom's mother, Mrs. Lisson, chose a long chiffon and tulle gown of navy blue with a matching cape.

A rehearsal dinner was held at the Barrel Restaurant. The reception was held at the Croatian Home in Madison.

The bride is a 1979 graduate of Granite City High School South. Her husband graduated from Granite City High School North in 1975.

The newlyweds will reside in Granite City.

CUTLASS STOLEN

Sometime between 10:30 p.m. Sunday and 5:55 a.m. today a yellow 1972 Oldsmobile, two-door Cutlass, belonging to Joe Schank, 626 Broadway, Venice, was stolen. The car was parked in front of the owner's home.

MARTIN REUNION

HELD IN KENTUCKY

Thomas and Lucille Martin of Breckenridge Lane have returned from a vacation with relatives in Morgantown and Dunbar, Ky.

They attended the annual Martin reunion in the city park of Morgantown.

More than 200 were in attendance, including Bob and Wanda (Martin) Sullivan of Edwardsville, Joe and Marilee (Martin) Verdu and children, Carole and Andy of Belleville, and Buel, Nancy, Timothy and Steve Martin of St. Charles, Mo.

Seven states were represented.

Lois (Martin) Folk of Chatsworth, Calif., formerly of Granite City, received the prize for traveling the farthest.

Rob Martin, 84, of Marion, Ky., was given a prize as the eldest one present. Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Martin of Morgantown were honored for being married the longest and having the most children present.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kahn have returned to their home in Michigan after visiting relatives here.

Environmental trainers will convene here

The National Environmental Training Association (NETA), an organization of professionals who train operators for environmental quality control systems, will hold its first national workshop and conference in St. Louis Aug. 13-16, hosted by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. James O. Bryant, director of the Environmental Resource Training Center at SIUE and newly elected NETA president, says, "Operator Training '79" is the first opportunity for trainers in water, air, noise, solid waste, toxic and recovery control systems to exchange ideas and compare training methods and materials on a national basis."

Salon 53 hears convention plans

Dorothy Hinson of Madison, a chapeau designer of Madison County Salon 53, Eight and Forty, reviewed plans for the group's national convention which is being held last week at the American Legion Home in Alton.

The convention will take place Aug. 24 and Aug. 25 in Houston, Tex.

Miss Hinson is serving as chairman of the national installation committee for Mrs. Elmer Martin of Danville, Ill., the incoming national chapeau.

Plans were made to hold an installation of Salon 53 officers Sept. 9 in Alton. Mrs. Fred Krick of Millstadt will succeed Miss Hinson as salon chapeau.

Mrs. Krick reported several activities that occurred at the state convention in Chicago, held in mid-July.

Jazz musicians at Festival Saturday

Preservation Hall Jazz Band, a group of New Orleans musicians who have traveled the world playing the famous music they created decades ago, will perform at the Mississippi River Festival on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Saturday, Aug. 11, at 7:30 p.m.

Now in their 60s, 70s and 80s, the band members still play with the spirit and joy symbolic of New Orleans jazz. The musicians brought together marches, quadrilles, blues, spirituals and ragtime to create what has been known as New Orleans jazz.

Preservation Hall in New Orleans originally was a place where the musicians could get together to play mostly for their own pleasure. Now, people from all over the world pack the benches each night to hear jazz as it was played when it was created.

It is described as simple in technical terms but complex in performance. Because they improvise as they go along, each concert is an original that will never be reconstructed in exactly the same way.

The Preservation Hall band members spend about a third of their time on tour. Tickets for the jazz band performance at the Mississippi River Festival are $9.50 for reserved seats and $7 for lawn.

Charges involve truck

Two informational documents were issued last week by the Madison County state's attorney's office citing William Porter Jr., 43, of Collinsville, a Collinsville transport firm operator, with theft and altering a vehicle identification number.

Porter was arrested on warrants at 4 p.m. Thursday in Collinsville and brought to Granite City police headquarters.

The charges concern the impounding on May 3 of a diesel truck which was seen at the Granite City Steel gate, 16th Street and Madison Avenue, by a man who alleged the vehicle had been stolen from him in Fenton, Mo., two months earlier.

One informational document, containing two counts, alleges Porter altered the manufacturer's identification numbers on a 1974 Peterbilt cab over tractor and a second count of altering the vehicle identification number on the same truck.

The second information, alleging theft, cites Porter for attaining control over certain property belonging to Brodhead Motors, involving various parts of a 1979 Ford truck.

On May 3, Will Brownlee of Kirkwood, Mo., and his wife were driving through Granite City when they saw a diesel truck he believed had been stolen from him.

He notified police, who confronted the driver. The driver said the truck belonged to a Collinsville trucking firm and asked that his boss come to Granite City to help straighten out the matter.

Police said the employer told them a man left the truck with the company for repairs and never returned to get it, so the company began using it.

At that time, the driver was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and failure to have a firearm owner's identification card after he produced a pistol from his boot and gave it to officers. Porter was arraigned before a judge at 11:15 a.m. Friday and pleaded innocent. Bond was set at $100,000.

He was released by authority of the judge on a property bond at 4:45 p.m. Friday.

BOTTLE CUTS FOOT

Darla Holst, Collinsville, suffered a cut to her foot during the weekend when a passenger in a passing auto threw a beer bottle onto the sidewalk in front of her in the 2500 block of Stratford Lane and the bottle broke, causing glass to fly into her foot. She was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was released after sutures were administered. Sheriff's deputies searched the area, but could not locate the auto.

Plan Aug. 25 talent show, modeling contest

A Talent Show and Modeling Contest for children and adults through 21 years of age are scheduled Saturday, Aug. 25, at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA, 2000 Edison Ave.

The combined event is being co-sponsored by the YMCA and the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club in observance of the International Year of the Child.

More than 650 trophies, cash awards and special prizes will be offered to contestants in the various events and age levels.

Entrants are being encouraged to participate and spectators may view the activities, according to Sharold Yount, project chairman for the business women's group.

Food items and other refreshments will be available all day.

Competition will start at 9:30 a.m. Aug. 25.

Categories of competition include:

- modeling dress; modeling costumes; solo twirling; fancy strut; military and basic strut; parade majorette; novelty talent; solo singing; gymnastics or acrobatics; solo dance, twirl or song and dance; jazz, tap and ballet; musical instruments; pom pom routines; and solo, duet and trio cheerleading.

Additional information may be obtained from Mrs. Yount at 931-4742.

Harvey Goad dies at 75

Harvey L. Goad, 75, of 2107 Bryan Ave., a resident of Granite City for 20 years, died at St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 3:20 p.m. Friday. He had been a patient in the hospital five days after becoming suddenly ill at his home.

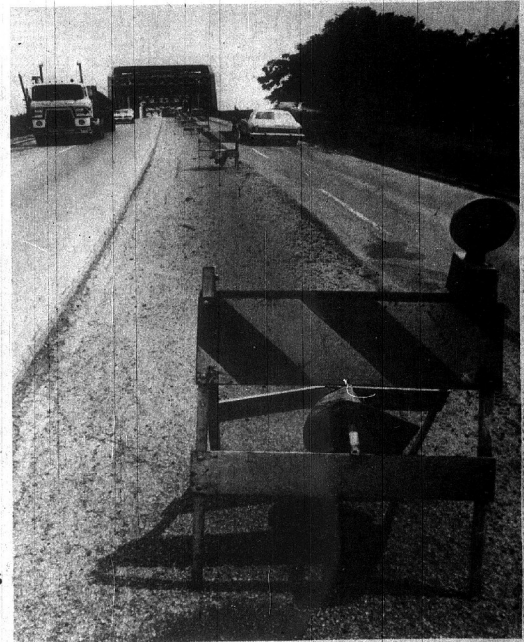

Mr. Goad was born in Indiana. After moving to Granite City he was employed as a watchman at Jenkinson-Wright Corp. He was retired.

He was a member of the Victory Pentecostal Church. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Janie (McCough) Goad, one daughter, Mrs. Joyce Ann Cochran of Jonesboro, Ark., and a son, Harvey Lee Goad, at home.

He also leaves two brothers, Ted and Ralph, both of Harrisburg, Ark., and two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Padgett of Linton, Ind., and Mrs. Ivan (Ida) Sims of Bloomfield, Ind.

He was a World War II veteran.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

TIGHT SQUEEZE. Traffic on the McCambridge Avenue viaduct has been snarled during the rush hours due to repair work to the surface of the bridge. The work necessitates the use of white and orange barricades around the work area. Several of the line of white and orange barricades were knocked down causing further problems for motorists. This view is from Second Street in Madison looking south.

Federally employed women exchange ideas

Mrs. Sharon Kay Fedora, Granite City, attended the 10th annual national training program sponsored by Federally Employed Women, Inc., held in Seattle in late July.

Mrs. Fedora is a member of the AVRADCOM Federal Women's Program Committee, St. Louis. She is employed as a stenographer with the U.S. Army Aviation Research and Development Command, 12th and Spruce streets.

The conference she attended is open to both women and men who are professionally or personally concerned with issues confronting women in government service.

Speakers included Dr. Sharon Lord, an associate professor in the Educational Psychology Department at the University of Tennessee, and Susan Hildebrand, a partner in the O'Sullivan and Hildebrand consulting organization and a representative of the Canadian Human Rights Commission.

Mrs. Fedora attended six workshops, which included pay reform legislation, Women's Alert, mentoring SF 171, how to find mentors and how to use them, the job interview, and presenting your best self and beginning career planning.

Mrs. Fedora works in the CH-47 (Chinook) project manager's office and her supervisor is Dean D. Hemmer, chief of the Logistics Management and Training Division.

Funds for 2nd phase of planning of SIUE gym

The Illinois Capital Development Board announced Thursday that Gov. James Thompson has ordered the release of $152,000 in planning funds for a new permanent multi-purpose physical education and recreation and athletic facility for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The funds will support the building project through the definitive design phase of the planning process.

This spring, Gov. Thompson released $190,000 for the first phase of planning for the multi-purpose facility. These funds were utilized in a supporting the project through the initial schematic design phase.

Design work for the project is being accomplished by Thompson Associates of Troy and Caudill Rowlett Scott Associate Architects of Houston, Tex.

A site for the building was approved by the SIUE Board of Trustees in June. It is east and slightly north of the Bubble Gym facility.

Legislation to appropriate planning funds for the project was introduced by State Senator Sam Vadalabene (C-Edwardsville) with the support of several other area legislators.

University officials are hopeful that additional funding will be released yet this year, allowing the project to be completed through the construction document phase of planning. Then the university would be ready to take bids on the project if construction funds are appropriated in the next fiscal year, officers said.

Occupancy permit issued

Madison Building Inspector John Dutko issued a temporary occupancy permit Thursday afternoon to Mrs. Barbara Guest which has allowed her to move into a home she is buying at 1625 Market St., Madison.

Mrs. Guest said she has been trying to get her house inspected since April without success.

Mrs. Guest purchased the house from Bruno and Irene Pullia of Cicero on April 22. Mrs. Guest, who works at Granite City Steel, has been living at 22 Grenzer Homes, Madison, with her three children.

Under the city building and zoning laws she could not move into the house or have any utilities turned on without the inspection.

Gas, lights and water were to be turned on Friday, according to Mrs. Guest. A telephone was to be installed Saturday.

Mrs. Guest said that Building Inspector Dutko was very helpful and courteous Thursday when he inspected the house.

She has filed a civil rights suit against Dutko, Mayor Mike Sasyk and the city of Madison in the U.S. District Court, Southern Illinois District.

The civil rights action charges racial discrimination by the city, mayor and building inspector.

Dutko said Friday any comments in reference to the pending legal action would have to come from the city legal department.

On the trailer are two of three steel trusses which will be used to support a 20-inch steamline across 21st, Nash and 20th streets. The steamline is being constructed at Granite City Steel between the blast furnace division on Edwardsville Road to the steel mill near 20th Street, a distance of 8,500 feet. The trusses shown are 86 feet long and will be attached to standing supports already erected. The line will carry steam from the blast furnace area to the steel mill by way of 21st Street, to be used in several applications.

Home improvement—with next year's income taxes in mind

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, taxpayers can now take advantage of a federal income tax credit for a portion of the cost of certain energy-saving expenditures made with regard to their residence.

The Energy-Tax Act of 1978 defines two categories of qualifying expenditures: renewable energy source expenditures such as the acquisition and installation of devices which transmit or use solar energy, energy derived from geothermal deposits or wind energy; and the type of expenditures made for insulation or most other energy-conserving components installed in the home.

It is the latter kind of expenditure which will be of interest to most homeowners, and the Illinois State Bar Association has offered the following information on this type of "energy conservation" home improvements. Examples of energy-conserving components might include: Insulation designed to reduce heat loss or gain.

Storm or thermal windows or doors.

Automatic energy-saving setback thermostat.

Caulking or weather stripping of doors or windows.

Flue opening modification devices designed to increase heating system efficiency. Furnace replacement burners designed to increase combustion efficiency.

In order for such expenditures to qualify for the credit, they must be:

—For an item purchased new by the taxpayer and that can be expected to remain in use for at least three years.

—For the taxpayer's principal residence, but it need not be owned by the taxpayer.

—Made between April 20, 1977, and 1985.

The amount of the credit available for energy conservation expenditures is 15 percent of such expenditures for any one principal residence up to a maximum of $2,000, or a maximum credit of $300.

The limits mentioned above are cumulative "per residence" limits rather than annual limits.

The law also stipulates that the credit may not exceed the taxpayer's liability for the year. Thus, it is a non-refundable credit.

However, to the extent it does exceed the tax liability, that amount may be carried forward to succeeding years through 1987.

For all home improvement-minded people who wish to take advantage of the energy tax credit, the ISBA advises that they check with the IRS before starting improvements which may be questionable as "energy saving" measures.

For instance, carpeting, painting and siding are not qualify as energy saving measures. If claiming the credit is going to make a difference on whether you make the improvement or not, definitely check it out, the ISBA urges.

"Finally, save all receipts and pertinent information so you will be prepared, come income tax time," the ISBA spokesman said.

Dispute ends in man charged

Lemond C. Collins, 34, of 2444 Adams St., was charged with assault following a dispute with a neighbor last week.

Diane Rodgers, 2442 Adams St., told police she went to talk with the Collins family after an argument involving children and alleged Collins used loud and profane language.

Mrs. Rodgers said she believed the man also was going to strike her when he walked off the porch toward her.

Because of the language allegedly used by Collins, two witnesses to the incident asked to sign complaints and were referred to the city attorney, police said.

Collins, who said he wanted to file a trespassing complaint against Mrs. Rodgers, was taken to police headquarters, charged with assault and released on payment of $35 cash bond.

Question from an Illinois Power customer:

"Why should I convert to Budget Billing if it doesn't save me money?"

Because with Budget Billing you pay your utility bills in 12 equal monthly installments. You eliminate the inconvenience and strain on the budget caused by bills that go up and down as the weather changes.

More and more Illinois Power customers are converting to Budget Billing. It's easy to switch to this convenient way to handle your utility bills.

On your August bill from Illinois Power, you'll find the amount your monthly payment would be under Budget Billing printed at the top. Simply check the box next to it and return with your August payment in full.

Each month thereafter you'll pay the same amount for your utility service. At any time you wish you can switch back to regular billing.

Illinois Power customers who have converted to Budget Billing like the plan. We think you will too.

This month choose

"NO-BODY"

I Say "NO-BODY"

DOES IT BETTER THAN
JOHN KREKOVICH REALTY

2295 & 2211 CLEVELAND—4 family, 2 story brick. All apartments rented. Just listed for only $37,500. Better hurry on this one.

2441 EDISON—If you were offered a very neat 4 bedroom home with 1 1/2 baths, formal dining room, spacious living room with a beautiful fireplace, family size kitchen with a breakfast room, full basement, 2 car garage—Now just how much do you think it'll cost you? You're wrong! It's only $48,500!

ST. ELIZABETH'S PARISH—Just beautiful is this 3 bedroom brick foyer, 1 1/2 baths, spacious built-in kitchen, dining room, very elegant living room with stone fireplace, a family room you'll just love, 2 car garage, full carpet, intercom thru-out with a very private yard area, your own sundeck. Just for you at only $64,500.

COUNTRY CLUB LIVING—$69,500 gives you this fantastic 3 bedroom brick with 1 1/2 baths, complete built-in kitchen, dining room, spacious and elegant living room with fireplace, a family room with another fireplace, 2 car garage, big, beautiful lot and steps away from golfing, swimming and even "bass fishing." We've got the best!

Public Notice 34

Sealed Bids Wanted
Sealed bids will be received by the Bi-State Development Agency of the Missouri-Illinois Metropolitan District for the purchase of One Front End Loader with Backhoe Attachment and Trailer Unit.

The award to be under this bid is subject to a financial assistance contract between the agency and the U.S. Department of Transportation, Urban Mass Transportation Payment for the Front End Loader with Backhoe Attachment and Trailer Unit will be made in accordance with U.S. DOT requirements. All bidders will be required to certify that they are not on the Comptroller General's list of ineligible contractors.

Each bid shall be made in accordance with certain specifications as outlined in Bid Number 896 furnished for that purpose. Copies of the plans and specifications, and other bidding documents may be obtained at the Purchasing Division, 3869 Park Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri 63110.

The Bi-State Development Agency hereby notifies all bidders that in regard to any contract entered into pursuant to this invitation to bid, a verbal statement or solicitation, minority enterprises will be afforded full opportunity to make and/or proposals in response, and will not be subject to discrimination on the basis of race, color, age, physical handicap or national origin in consideration for an award. All bidders will be required to comply with all applicable equal opportunity rules and regulations and equal opportunity policies and procedures established by the Bi-State Development Agency.

Bidders must be prequalified with the Missouri Fair Employment Practices Commission, Public Contracts Division, 17 West Washington Street, Chicago, Illinois 60602, prior to the bid opening. This may be accomplished by submitting a completed IFEC Form PC-1 to the Illinois Fair Employment Practices Commission for prequalification prior to bid opening. These forms are furnished with all bid specifications.

The Bi-State Development Agency solicits and encourages minority business enterprise participation with regard to this project. Bids will be awarded full consideration of their needs and will not be subject to discrimination. Responses will be required to comply with the Agency's Minority Business Program goal requirement where applicable.

Sealed bids will be received at the General Office of Bi-State Development Agency, 3869 Park Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri 63110, until 2:00 p.m. on September 5, 1979 and will be opened and read in public at that time. Any bid received after the time referred to above will not be considered and will be returned to the bidder unopened.

A pre-bid conference will be held for all interested parties on August 15, 1979 at 10:00 a.m. in the Conference Room 708 S. 39th Street, St. Louis, Missouri 63110.

Bi-State reserves the right to accept any bid or reject any and all bids or to make a basis as the agency deems to be in its best interest, subject to regulations governing the award of contracts. Bids not assisted transit changes which require this Agency to award to the lowest responsive and responsible bidder.

Just for kids

A new route for hand-me-downs

Garage sales, swap parties, handing down and trading are some of the ways by which children's clothes make the rounds until they are worn out. Lynn North is a Granite Cityan who has come up with yet another way.

Mothers have always looked for ways to get enough wear out of kids' things, especially those of young children. Little kids often outgrow their things before they can wear them out.

Garage sales became popular as a way to recycle those things. Mothers would buy and sell, coming up with good clothes at a low price.

Mrs. North has gone that idea one better. She has opened a little shop called Just For Kids, located at 1340 Niedringhaus Ave. She sells used kids' stuff, not old things, but rather those clothes that kids have outgrown. She also takes specialty items and equipment such as bassinets and walkers.

She works her little business on a consignment basis, selling things for mothers whose children have grown out of them. She accepts only things that are in good shape. She does not take stained or torn articles.

She also sells the handiwork of Granite Cityans, such as handmade baby quilts, toys and the like.

Mrs. North's little shop is colorfully decorated and she provides toys to keep the little ones happy while Mother shops. She keeps sizes 0 through 12, with a few 14s thrown in.

Prices are low. In these days of ever soaring costs, more and more people are looking for ways to save money. Mrs. North's shop provides what garage sale goers term the "cream of the crop" in children's used items.

The shop also serves as an outlet for those who make things with young children in mind. Hobbyists who like to crochet finger puppets or build dollhouses or quilt find that Mrs. North has a place for their work.

Mrs. North might have called her shop "Mom's Recycling Center," since oftentimes the mothers who bring in one size for sale will leave with an armload of the next bigger size, purchased for the very child whose things she brought in.

A mother herself, her two young children nearby as she works in her shop, Mrs. North knows the value of recycling good used things. Although her way is not new, her ideas about what she will recycle are a bit different.

"Coming to my shop is like being first at a garage sale," she said. "You get the best of the stuff that the little ones need. And since I will resell the clothes and things that your children have outgrown, it's sort of like a trading center for kids' stuff."

PEOPLE

Louis Lasiter dies at 68

Louis P. Lasiter, 68, of 117 Lenox Ave., Mitchell, active in the Boy Scout movement for many years, died at 8:45 p.m. Saturday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

He had been in ill health for the last three and a half years and was hospitalized the past three weeks.

Mr. Lasiter formerly served as a commissioner in the Cahokia Mound Council's Unihah District (Quad-City area), Boy Scouts of America; and as a leader of former Explorer Post 41 and the Cub Scout Roundtable.

He was a member of the Order of the Arrow and Central Christian Church.

Mr. Lasiter was a 1937 graduate of Illinois State University at Jacksonville. Prior to retiring in 1973, he was employed 11 years as a foreman at Purex Corp. St. Louis.

Mr. Lasiter resided in the Granite City-Mitchell area for 32 years. Previously, he lived in Alton.

He was born in Jopka, Ill. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Helen (McNeely) Lasiter; one son, Mike Lasiter of Granite City; a daughter, Mrs. Danny (Cynthia) Millsap of Granite City; a brother, Joseph E. Lasiter of Holland, Mich.; a niece, Mrs. Jerry (Carol) Daniels of Zeeland, Mich.; and eight grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

HIGHWAY DEATHS IN DISTRICT 11 LOWER

Capt. Albert J. Bertagnoli, district commander for the nine-county area included in District 11, Maryville, has announced that during July five persons died in five of the 350 accidents investigated by state troopers in District 11.

The total number of people killed in rural accidents for the first seven months of 1979 in District 11 is 45, or 15 less than in the same time period of 1978.

Woman hurt, one charged

A 30-year-old Granite City woman was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for a head injury and another woman was charged with battery as the result of a disturbance at the 18th Street Lounge, at 1:15 a.m. Saturday.

Police said they responded to a report of a fight and when they arrived they found Susan Meador, 1832 State St., unconscious on the floor and a number of patrons attempting to force a man and a woman to leave the lounge.

Police summoned an ambulance and had the unconscious woman taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she was treated for a head injury.

Officers said they were told the Meador woman was struck by the woman the patrons were trying to eject. The Meador woman fell to the floor and struck her head on a radiator, police were told. Ann Carver, 37, of 2258 Grand Ave., was charged with battery, on a complaint signed by the injured woman, officers said.

Pre-teen pool party Thursday

A pre-teen children's party will be held Thursday, Aug. 9, at Paddlers swimming pools, 2121 Johnson Road. The event will be held from 1 p.m. until 3 p.m. for children 12 and under. The cost is 30 cents a child. Entertainment for the pool party will be provided by a ventriloquist, according to a spokesman.

ETHNIC DAYS

Area organizations wishing to participate in the Madison Ethnic Festival, Aug. 24, 25 and 26 are asked to contact Mike Macek 877-4854 to make arrangements for a booth. All organizations are welcome, according to Macek, but are being asked to contact him within the week.

Burglary at Pete and Mary's

An unknown amount of money was taken from two cash registers and a vending machine in a burglary at Pete and Mary's Tavern, 2409 Lincoln Ave., reported at 8:45 a.m. Wednesday.

A key was removed from a cash register to open the coin box of a cigarette machine. It was not determined how the burglar gained entry into the building.

Cyclist hurt

Thomas E. Merrell, 30, Fairmont City, was injured at 7 p.m. Saturday when his motorcycle and a car driven by Dorothy Davidson, 54, of Alton, collided on Highway 111, one-tenth of a mile south of Highway 162.

Merrell was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment, according to state police who said the accident occurred when the Davidson car stopped for traffic and was struck from the rear by Merrell's motorcycle.

2 girls hurt in Rt. 111 mishap

Two 15-year-old girls were injured at 9:35 p.m. Friday when one of them was struck by an auto as they were riding their bicycles on State Aid Route 35, one-tenth of a mile east of Highway 111.

Both girls, Vicki L. Dennison, 708 Meadowlane Drive, and Dawn Hurd, Holiday Mobile Homes, were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where they were treated and released.

State police said the two bicyclists were eastbound on the shoulder of the highway when Miss Dennison's bicycle was struck by a car driven by Jeffrey A. Fadler, 3718 Joyce Ave., as it was attempting to pass another vehicle.

Officers said Miss Dennison's bike was thrown into that being ridden by her companion.

Fadler was ticketed on a charge of improperly overtaking another vehicle.

THEY'RE OFF AND RIDING. Many Quad-Cityans braved the 90-degree temperature Sunday as they rode a four-mile course in the fifth annual bike-a-thon for the American Cancer Society. The riders, the youngest being six-year-old John Petrillo, were sponsored by friends and neighbors who paid so much a mile. The money raised will go to help cancer patients and support vital research work.
